Weaving the wild into song, Bristol-based singer-songwriter and award-winning environmentalist Natalie Fée shares her debut album, Daughter of Nature. Natalie draws her inspiration from a deep, embodied connection to nature, blending the traditional warmth of folk with poetic lyrics, enchanting harmonies and healing invocations.

A passionate activist, author, poet and visionary artist, Natalie's music offers a doorway into another state of being, transporting us back into the arms of nature, wherever we are. Her lyrics and melodies invite us to reconnect with the sense of wonder and awe that modern day life seems to so easily squeeze out.

Signed to Disruptive Element Records and produced by London-based composer and producer, Christopher Nicholas Bangs, Daughter of Nature (full album) is due for release on 23rd April, 2026.
